

Carmenes Del Mar

An Idyllic Holiday Destination

Our idyllic Andulucian home overlooking the magical bay of La Herradura, high on the Cerro Gordo peninsula - it will undoubtedly capture your heart.

Carmenes del Mar is one of those special places, once you have visited you will want to return again and again. Endless blue sky, terracotta and white washed houses, the scent of orange blossom, wild thyme and mint, an exclusive paradise where one visit will never be enough.

Imagine, relaxing on the sunny terrace with a gentle Mediterranean breeze, an occasional dip in the pool to refresh and to revitalize, or spending an afternoon with friends and family on the beach...all this and much more...

Carmenes del Mar is ideal for cultural visits to the cities of Granada, Cordoba, Malaga or Rhonda, or even touch the sky from the top of the Sierra Nevada - the choices are diverse.

Our delightful house, within a private gated collection of properties, is equipped with the very best comforts, designed to meet the highest quality standards, but retaining the personal eye for detail to ensure your holiday home has everything imaginable at your finger tips.

With marble floors throughout, three thoughtfully designed bedrooms, a dressing room, two contemporary bathrooms, and a fully equipped modern kitchen, the house is spacious and light. Terrace space is abundant with areas for sun worshippers and shade lovers alike. Dining inside or out, relaxing in the comfort of the interior or the fun of the exterior - the choice is yours.

Excellent road communications make road trips easy to nearby towns of Almunecar, Motril or Nerja, where you may wish to visit local markets or Nerja's famous caves. La Herradura is a lively little fishing village which boasts an excellent selection of bars and restaurants and a daily fish, meat and vegetable market.

Carmenes del Mar is only one hour's drive to Malaga and Granada airports. We can always recommend flight and car hire companies as well as excursions, restaurants and things to do in general!
